German economy 2020 – a body blow from the Corona virus

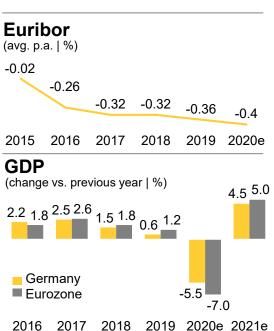

Current development

- After an encouraging start into the year 2020 the spreading of the Corona virus and the measures which should contain the outbreak resulted in a slump of economic activity. As a consequence German real GDP probably shrank by roughly 2.5% QoQ in Q1; the QoQ decline in Q2 will probably be more than four times this number despite the first steps of loosening the lockdown.
- Almost all parts of the German economy are affected by this slump. One of the less affected sectors is probably construction, while big parts of the service sector, which had been the mainstay of the German economy until the outbreak of the virus, have been hit very hard.
- If the number of infections declines further, the containment measures will be taken back step for step in the coming months. This will allow a significant recovery of the German economy from Q3 onwards.

Our expectation for 2020

- However, it will take time until German real GDP reaches its pre-crisis level again. Until a vaccine is available, the virus will still hamper economic activity. In addition, business debt is currently rising rapidly. After the crisis firms will try to reduce their debt burden again by postponing investment and cutting their workforce.
- We expect the German economy to shrink by 5.5% in 2020, followed by a recovery of 4.5% in 2021. Obviously the forecast uncertainty is much higher than usual, and the risks to this forecast are tilted to the downside.

Retail with winners and losers in the Corona crisis – share of 1.5% of overall portfolio

- Overall stable sector due to high proportion of food retailing and drugstores (food retailing with 10-15% non food revenues). Top 10 borrower units represent 58% of sector EaD
- Retail industry: fierce predatory competition in all segments by price and investments in shop modernization
- In crisis: food retailing winner due to stay-at-home effect and shut down of competitors in non food. Fashion: most severely affected
- After crisis: Home Improvement/Furniture/DIY: expected to benefit from "cocooning-impact" and shift in consumer preferences
- Corona liquidity support: 81 applications, thereof 31 approved, 50 in processing
- Our consistent strategy of customer selection and support of sustainable business models only over the past years pays off during the current crisis

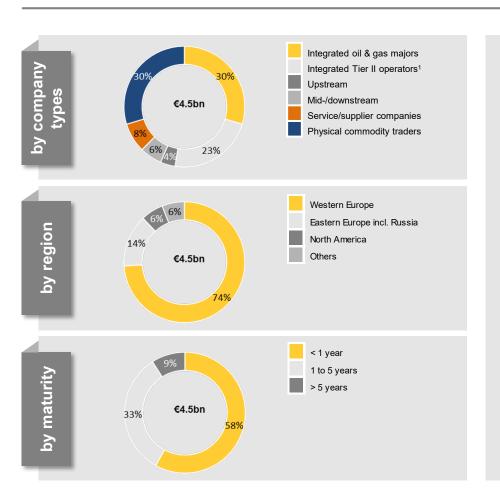

Travel related industries are strongly affected by the Corona crisis – share of only 1% of overall portfolio

- → € 2.7bn airlines portfolio consists of €1.6bn secured aircraft financing and €1.0bn corporate exposure
- > Cruise liners (€0.9bn) mostly ECA covered. ECA has provided loan deferral options ("cruise debt holiday of principle") to protect liquidity
- For hotel portfolio (€0.6bn) recovery on a low level expected starting in Q3/2020. Portfolio consists of €0.3bn asset based financing (only hotels in Germany) and corporate financing (Europe-wide)
- Tour operators (€0.4bn): Mix of state support and use of KfW programs
- Approximately 83% of the portfolio with investment grade ratings

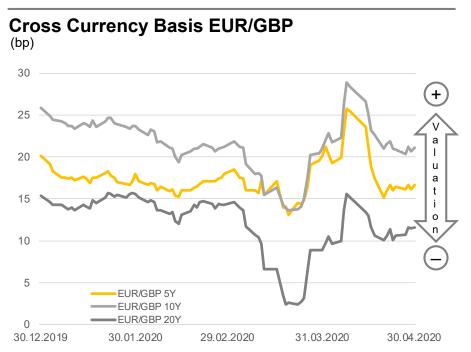

Oil/gas exposure stands for less than 1% of total exposure – approximately 75% investment grade

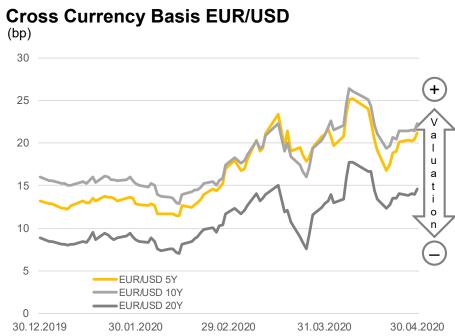

- More than 50% of the exposure to integrated oil & gas majors and Tier II operators with strong balance sheets. Leverage overall better than 2015/16 across these groups – when oil price was last < USD 30/bbl
- Commodity trader exposure concentrated to world's top independent energy traders with strong liquidity profiles and benefiting from "flight to quality"
- > >Approximately 75% of the overall portfolio equivalent to investment grade
- High ability to react more than 50% of the exposure with maturities below 1 year
- > No exposure to single asset operations
- No shale producers
- No project finance

Valuation effects from long-term funding transactions impact Q1 – partial reversal in April

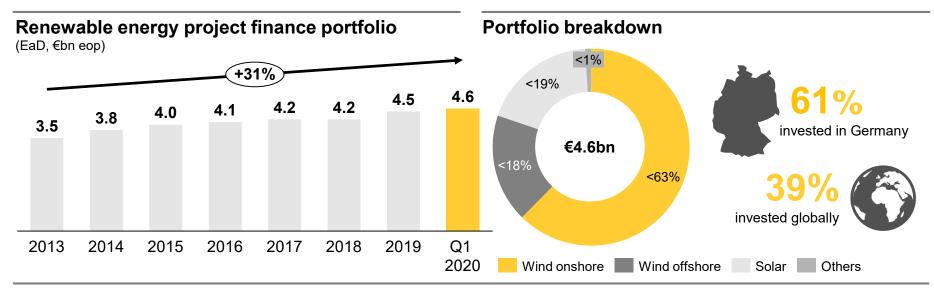

- > Strong market moves in cross currency (e.g. in GBP) has lead to valuation spikes of long-term funding transactions
- > In March market moves in cross currency and also tenor basis resulted in impact of around -€150m partially reported as exceptional revenue items
- > As volatility in markets reduced, partial reversal of valuation effects (around €90m) in April

As a leading German provider of renewable energy project finance it is our objective to become Germany's most sustainable commercial bank

Loan and deposit development

- Loan growth in Private and Small Business Customers mainly driven by residential mortgage business in Germany stable deposit base
- > Lower volumes from mBank due to FX effects increased volumes in PLN
- > Increased loan volumes in International Corporates and Mittelstand partially offset by lower volumes in Institutionals
- > Lower deposit volumes in CC reflecting lower international deposits and increased cash use of public sector depositors

Significant NII potential in scenario of rising interest rates

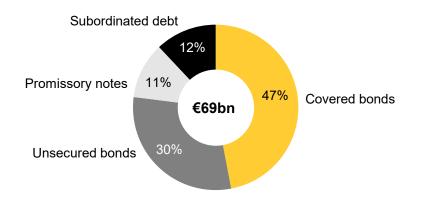

- > Year 1 effect of ~€550-600m driven by short-end rates due to large stock of overnight (excess) deposits
- > Thereof ~1/2 stem from leaving the negative interest rate territory
- > Year 4 effect of ~€950-1,000m driven by higher reinvestment yield of modelled deposits used to refinance longer term loans

IAS 19: Development of pension obligations

Additional information

- > Significant increase in the discount rate in Q1 according to market development. Hence, valuation gain due to decrease in pension obligations which more than overcompensated the decreased market value of plan assets (= positive OCI net effect of +€515m QoQ)
- > The discount rate is derived from a AA rated corporate bond basket yield with average duration of 18 years
- > The average funding ratio (plan assets vs. pension obligations) of all Group plans is 100%
- > Since 2013, hedge via plan assets dampened the obligation increase of €1,844m to a cumulated OCI capital effect of -€537m
 - 1) OCI effect driven by development of plan assets versus pension obligations, after tax, without minorities
 - 2) Discount rate for pension plans in Germany (represent 88% of total pension obligations)
 - 3) From 2018 onwards excluding pension obligations of EMC and ebase (sold in July 2019)

Net negative impact on CET1 ratio from FX effects

| EUR/ GBP | 0.851 | 0.886 |
| EUR/ PLN | 4.257 | 4.551 |
| EUR/ USD | 1.123 | 1.096 |

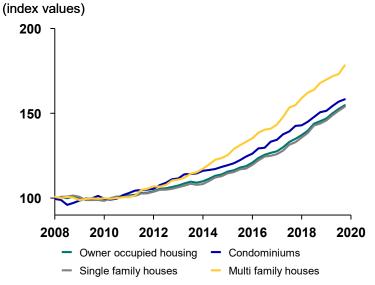

Explanation

- > Negative impact on capital ratio mainly due to decreasing currency translation reserve for PLN:
 - Major impact from decreasing currency translation reserve for PLN by -€171m, which was not compensated by decreasing Credit Risk RWA from PLN
 - QoQ the EUR weakened by -2.5% against the USD resulting in +€0.6bn higher Credit Risk RWA with compensating effect of +€51m from increase of the currency translation reserve

Disclaimer

This presentation contains forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements are statements that are not historical facts; they include, inter alia, statements about Commerzbank's beliefs and expectations and the assumptions underlying them. These statements are based on plans, estimates, projections and targets as they are currently available to the management of Commerzbank. Forward-looking statements therefore speak only as of the date they are made, and Commerzbank undertakes no obligation to update any of them in light of new information or future events. By their very nature, forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties. A number of important factors could therefore cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statement. Such factors include, among others, the conditions in the financial markets in Germany, in Europe, in the United States and elsewhere from which Commerzbank derives a substantial portion of its revenues and in which it hold a substantial portion of its assets, the development of asset prices and market volatility, potential defaults of borrowers or trading counterparties, the implementation of its strategic initiatives and the reliability of its risk management policies.

In addition, this presentation contains financial and other information which has been derived from publicly available information disclosed by persons other than Commerzbank ("external data"). In particular, external data has been derived from industry and customer-related data and other calculations taken or derived from industry reports published by third parties, market research reports and commercial publications. Commercial publications generally state that the information they contain has originated from sources assumed to be reliable, but that the accuracy and completeness of such information is not guaranteed and that the calculations contained therein are based on a series of assumptions. The external data has not been independently verified by Commerzbank. Therefore, Commerzbank cannot assume any responsibility for the accuracy of the external data taken or derived from public sources.
