Disclaimer

This presentation contains forward-looking statements. Forwardlooking statements are statements that are not historical facts; they include, inter alia, statements about Commerzbank's beliefs and expectations and the assumptions underlying them. These statements are based on plans, estimates, projections and targets as they are currently available to the management of Commerzbank. Forward-looking statements therefore speak only as of the date they are made, and Commerzbank undertakes no obligation to update any of them in light of new information or future events. By their very nature, forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties. A number of important factors could therefore cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statement. Such factors include, among others, the conditions in the financial markets in Germany, in Europe, in the United States and elsewhere from which Commerzbank derives a substantial portion of its revenues and in which it hold a substantial portion of its assets, the development of asset prices and market volatility, potential defaults of borrowers or trading counterparties, the implementation of its strategic initiatives and the reliability of its risk management policies.

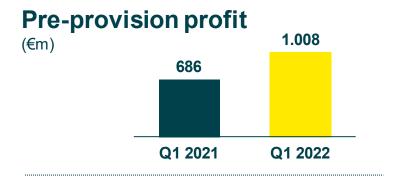

In addition, this presentation contains financial and other information which has been derived from publicly available information disclosed by persons other than Commerzbank ("external data"). In particular, external data has been derived from industry and customer-related data and other calculations taken or derived from industry reports published by third parties, market research reports and commercial publications. Commercial publications generally state that the information they contain has originated from sources assumed to be reliable, but that the accuracy and completeness of such information is not guaranteed and that the calculations contained therein are based on a series of assumptions. The external data has not been independently verified by Commerzbank. Therefore, Commerzbank cannot assume any responsibility for the accuracy of the external data taken or derived from public sources.

NCI on level of very good Q1 2021

Underlying net commission income (€m)

Highlights Q1

NCI in PSBC Germany reflects strong securities business – slightly below record Q1 2021

mBank benefiting from better transactional business, supported by one-off fees

Better commission income in CC from improved payment transactions and FX business

Significant growth in underlying NII

Underlying net interest income (ex TLTRO) (€m)

Highlights Q1

Strong growth in mBank following interest rate increases in Poland

PSBC Germany with moderate increase, continuing the trend since Q2 2021

Better NII in CC with higher contributions from deposits and stable contributions from loans

Forwards imply increasing NII potential from deposits

Change in NII vs. 2021 from EUR deposits at CC and PSBC Germany

Additional notes on scenario calculation

Potential for NII increase based on forward curve as of 31 March 2022

Constant deposit volumes and composition of deposit volumes as well as no deposit beta after leaving negative rates assumed in scenario calculation

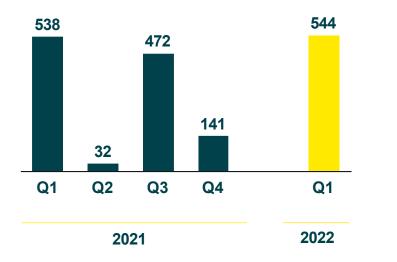

Based on forward curve, deposit rate is positive from 2023. Therefore, no deposit charging assumed and loss of corresponding revenues included in scenario calculation

Highlights Q1

YoY increase in operating result with strong revenue growth more than compensating increased risk result due to Russia

Pre-provision profit improved significantly due to 12% higher revenues and 2% lower operating expenses YoY

NFV result benefits from good capital markets business in CC and valuation effects from hedges in O&C

Other income reflects positive effects from hedge accounting and balance sheet management – more than offsetting €41m provisions for CHF loans in Poland

 Q1 2022

Total expenses (€m)

Highlights Q1

Personnel expenses benefit from a 1,868 net FTE reduction YoY to 36,955 – offset by higher accruals for variable compensation

Decrease in administrative expenses for consulting and occupancy, following branch closures

Increased European bank levy due to higher charges of the single resolution fund driven by deposit growth in Europe – largely offset by usage of payment commitments FY cost target confirmed despite increasing pressure from inflation – higher energy prices and other inflationary effects to be compensated by cost management

Highlights Q1

Operating result benefits from positive fair value result and other income – compensating higher risk result

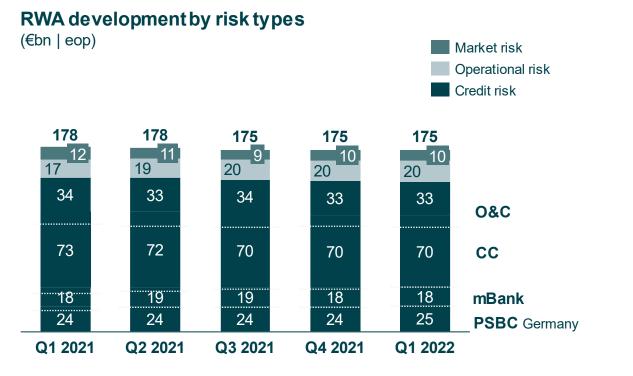

neosfer (Main Incubator) with €26m valuation effects – CommerzVentures -€8m

NFV result benefits from valuation effects of interest rate and cross-currency funding hedges of commercial book

Other income reflects positive effects from hedge result and balance sheet management

Increase in risk result mainly single name legacy position and Russia related effects

CET1 ratio of 13.5% and buffer to MDA of ~410bps

Highlights Q1

RWA stable QoQ

Credit risk RWA net stable – increases due to Russia related rating changes were compensated

Market risk RWA net stable despite increased market volatility

Operational risk RWA also stable

Transition of CET1 ratio (%)

Slightly decreased capital – positive contribution from regulatory eligible net result and pension funds more than offset by decreased other comprehensive income and increased prudent valuation (regulatory capital deduction)

Comfortable fulfilment of MREL requirements

MREL Requirements and M-MDA

- Based on data as of 31 March 2022, Commerzbank fulfils the MREL RWA requirement<sup>1</sup> of 23.13% plus the combined buffer requirement (CBR) of 3.77% with a MREL ratio of 32.0% and the MREL subordination requirement of 13.62% plus CBR of 3.77% with a ratio of 27.0% of RWA
- Both the MREL LRE ratio of 9.6% and MREL subordination LRE ratio of 8.1% comfortably meet the requirement of 6.52%, each as of 31 March 2022
- The issuance strategy is consistent with both RWA and LRE based MPE MREL requirements
- A new MREL requirement is expected within the next review cycle (H1 2022)

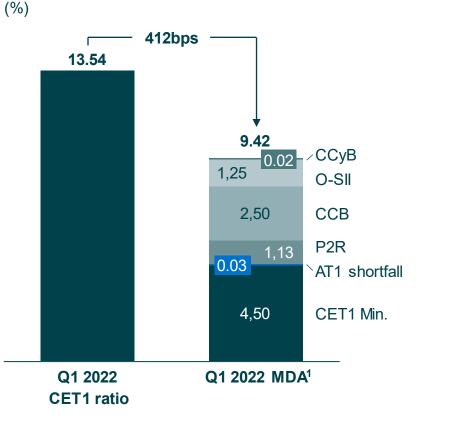

- 1) In December 2021, Commerzbank AG received its current MREL requirement calibrated based on data as of 31 Dec. 2019. The resolution approach is a multiple point of entry (MPE) with two separate resolution groups (resolution groups (resolution group A: Commerzbank Group without mBank subgroup; resolution group B: mBank subgroup). The legally binding MREL (subordination) requirement is defined as a percentage of risk-weighted assets (RWA) and leverage ratio exposure (LRE)
- 2) Includes amortized amount (regulatory) of Tier 2 instruments with maturity > 1 year
- 3) According to §46f KWG or non-preferred senior by contract
- 4) Non-covered / non-preferred deposits; preferred senior unsecured

Commerzbank's current MDA

Distance to MDA based on SREP requirement (transitional) for Q1 2022

Highlights

412bps distance to MDA based on Q1 2022 CET1 ratio of 13.54% and SREP requirement for 2022

Further regulatory comments:

- AT1 shortfall of 3bps due to phase-out of remaining €226m grandfathered AT1
- Tier 2 with moderate maturities and issuance needs in 2022
- Well prepared for upcoming MDA increase due to an activation of CCyBs in UK (Dec 2022 – impact on institution-specific CCyB ~9bps) and Germany (Feb 2023 – impact on institution-specific CCyB ~40bps)
- Activation of a 2% sectoral systemic risk buffer (sSyRB) on RWA from exposure secured by residential properties in Germany will lead to an institution-specific sSyRB of up to ~15bps

AT1 issuance strategy continues in light of economical decisions and in relation to distance to MDA while goal for the Tier 2 layer is  $\geq 2.5\%$

1) Based on RWAs of €175.1bn as of Q1 2022. AT 1 requirement of 1.875% and Tier 2 requirement of 2.5%

Management view and core beliefs

With the new strategy sustainability is where it belongs: at CEO level

"Sustainability has become an integral part of our strategy. We have defined ambitious targets for the carbon footprint and we will actively seize the business opportunities from the green transformation." (Manfred Knof at Capital Markets Day, March 2022)

Sustainability as a business opportunity

- Every client is affected by transformation we offer innovative products and services to support our clients in the best way
- Customers expect sustainable banking only if we offer credible products and solutions we will sustain
- Digitization and sustainability go hand in hand
   we want to use those synergies

Status Quo

- Since Dr. Manfred Knof took over as CEO in 2021, sustainability is directly within his responsibilities, establishment of Group Sustainability Management
- Sustainability is besides customer-centricity, digitization and profitability an integral cornerstone of our strategy program for 2024
- Commerzbank recognizes sustainability not only as a trend but also as a duty for our customers, society and future generations
- Establishment of Environmental, Social and Governance Committee within the Supervisory Board to ensure a holistic anchoring of the topic

Sustainability has to be approached holistically

- We understand sustainability across all dimensions
- Sustainability affects all segments of our bank

   operations, product offering, risk management

Sustainability needs to be managed consequently

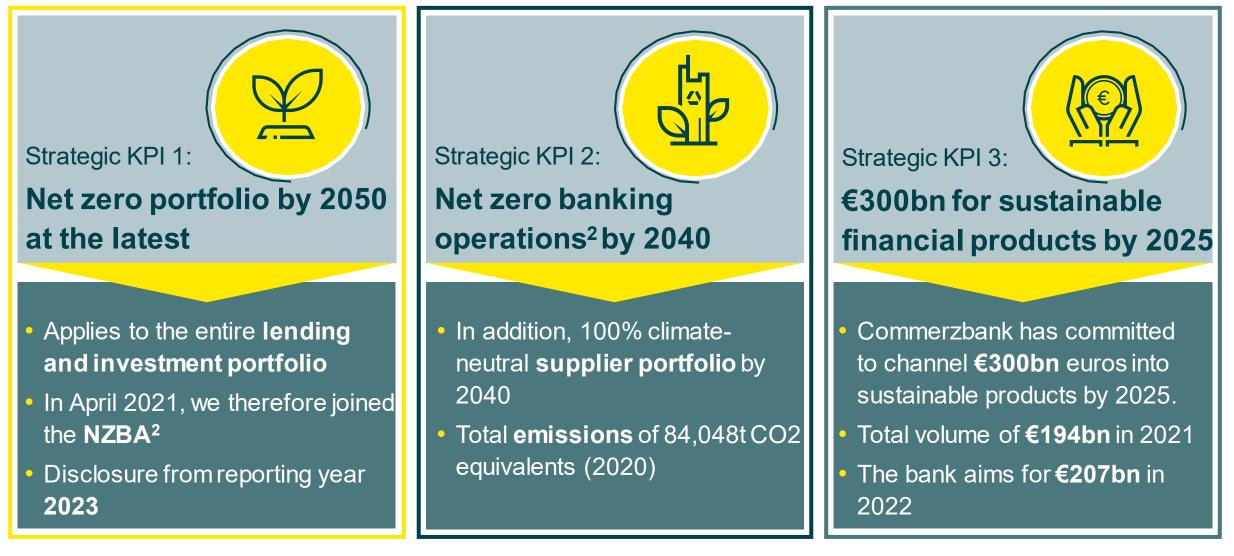

- Climate and ESG related risks are potential risks for our clients and for us – we identify, monitor and manage these risks consequently
- Customer relationships which are not sharing our core beliefs will be carefully looked at

Our ESG Strategy follows a holistic view

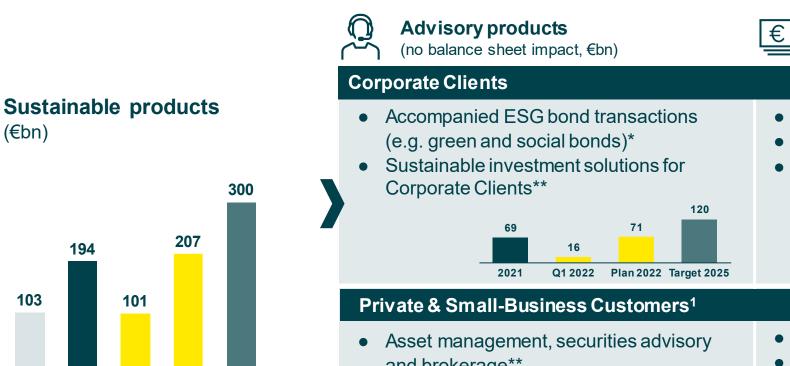

> Our overarching goal is directed by our commitment to meet the global challenges as a responsible partner for sustainable economic and social development.

German economy 2022 – slowed down by Russia and China 🍊

2016 2017 2018 2019 2020 2021 2022e 2023e

Current development

The significant rise in infection figures since last fall and the renewed restrictions imposed as a result have noticeably slowed the German economy. After a strong recovery in Q2 and Q3 of last year, growth came to a halt in the winter half-year 2021/2022.

Services again suffered particularly from the latest two waves of infections. By contrast, manufacturing has been able to increase its output again somewhat since last fall. However, at the end of Q1 the Russia-Ukraine war again exacerbated the problems in the supply chains, which noticeably slowed production in the automotive sector in particular.

Partly because of these supply bottlenecks, the inflation rate has risen sharply in recent months. In April, at 7.4%, it reached the highest level in almost 38 years. The main drivers are still energy prices but other prices are also rising faster.

The situation on the labor market has improved of late, with many companies creating new jobs again. This has brought the seasonally adjusted number of unemployed back below its pre-crisis level. However, a good 600 thousand people are still working short-time.

Our expectation for 2022

For much of this year, the boost to services from the widespread lifting of the COVID restrictions is likely to be neutralized by the weakness of the manufacturing sector. This is because the Russia-Ukraine war and the lockdowns imposed by the Chinese government as part of its zero-COVID strategy have tended to exacerbate the problems in supply chains. Added to this is the dramatic rise in the prices of energy.

However, as long as the Russia-Ukraine war does not trigger an energy crisis, the economy should still grow slightly, as monetary and fiscal policy will remain expansionary. If the war ends in the coming months, the economy could even pick up again towards the end of the year. This is because energy prices should then fall again somewhat and the problems in the supply chains should at least ease. But even in this scenario, real GDP will probably only increase by 2%.

The inflation rate will fall only slowly in the coming months, and this would probably only be due to less dynamic energy prices. Underlying inflation is more likely to increase.

In the Euro zone, too, inflation will remain high for the time being. In response, the ECB is likely to end its bond purchases in Q3 and raise its deposit rate by a total of 50 basis points by the end of the year.

100 bps parallel up-shift in rates yield curve (as of 31 March 2022 | %)

Scenario impact on NII from EUR deposits of CC and PSBC Germany (€m)

Highlights

Effect driven by higher reinvestment yield of modelled deposits used to refinance longer term loans

Constant deposit volumes and deposit composition as well as deposit beta of zero assumed in scenario
